The Jury in the Powers Case Taken to Frankfort.

Murderer Caught in Cairo—Kentucky Fugitive Captured in Tennessee.

POWERS JURY GOES VISITING.

Georgetown, Ky., August 25.—The cross-examination of Jim Howard in the Powers case, began Saturday afternoon, ended yesterday. The attorney went at length into the case of Howard for the purpose of laying foundation of contradictions, and this course on the part of the prosecution will draw the hearing out for a day or two longer than anticipated. As a result the case may not go to the jury for a verdict before a week from yesterday. The cross examination of Howard will necessitate the calling of at least a dozen or more witnesses.

Ben Rowe, colored, janitor of the state executive department in 1900, denied that, after the shooting of Goebel, he, as Yontsey says, picked up the Marlin gun with which the shooting was done and ejected the shell. He denied any knowledge of having seen Yontsey at that time.

The jury was taken to Frankfort yesterday afternoon to view the state capital grounds and returned from Frankfort at 6 o'clock and court immediately adjourned for the day. Argument to the jury will be begun Wednesday.

MURDERER CAUGHT IN CAIRO.

Cairo, Ill., August 25.—Martin Bush, a negro and a self-confessed murderer twice over, is in jail here and will be taken to Texarkana to face the awful charge. Bush was arrested at the instance of a former sweetheart and when put in the sweatbox by Chief Price told his story. He admits killing another negro in a duel with knives over a woman at Texarkana. Returning after an absence of several years he became involved in a quarrel with a negro named Ellis Arnold, head waiter at the Hickings House there, and shot and killed him. An officer will arrive for him tomorrow.

HELD UP BY NEGROES.

Hodgenville, Ky., August 25.—Mr. Robert Black, an old and respected farmer near here was robbed by two negro men last night as he was returning from Elizabethtown whether he had gone with a load of watermelons.

Besides the money he got for his melons the robbers got from him $80 in gold. The robbery occurred at a point near Toneyville, this county. Efforts are being made to run down the guilty parties.

KENTUCKIAN CAUGHT IN TENNESSEE.

Nashville, Tenn., August 25.—Win. Garrett, arrested at the home of a relative in this city was identified by Officer Hughes of Clinton county, Ky., as wanted in that county on a charge of murdering his rival at a dance. A reward of $300 for Garrett is outstanding. He escaped with three other prisoners from the Clinton county jail some time ago.

SECRETARY ROOT RESIGNS.

Washington, August 25.—It is officially announced today that Secretary of War Root has resigned and will be succeeded by Governor Taft now in the Philippines, January 1.

MORE DETAILS COME

Atrocities are Authenticated by Late Reports Received.

Bodies of Many Women Found Horribly Mutilated by the Turks.

FATAL DUEL OVER A GIRL

Sofia, August 25.—With the rumors of massacres and the murder of prisoners in Monastir now authenticated, the general situation is considered here as fast becoming intolerable.

The revolutionary commissioners are doing their utmost to force the hands of the Bulgarian government, and the immediate outlook is accordingly serious.

It appears that the Turks have obtained the upper hand in the village of Monastir, and the insurgents are planning to remove the center of their activity close to the Bulgarian frontiers. Dispatches arriving today from the disturbed area are exceedingly gloomy. From Adrianople comes the news of a Turkish defeat and the extension of the revolutionary outbreaks; from Monastir, the news of Turkish victories accompanied by barbarous excesses.

While many of the reports remain without confirmation, sufficient authentic details are forthcoming to cause the authorities the gravest anxiety. According to the Sofia Review, the Turks committed unspeakable atrocities at Krnshevo. The mutilated corpses of ninety women and children were found in one building; pieces of the bodies had been thrown into the street. Fifteen of the principal merchants of the town were killed and their heads exhibited on poles.

DUEL OVER A WOMAN.

Mt. Vernon, Ind., Aug. 24.—A fatal duel over a girl occurred on a ferry boat in Point township between Ed Robinson and Samuel Lusk. Robinson stabbed Lusk over the heart and then cut his throat, severing the jugular vein. Lusk died in a short time. Robinson gave himself up to the Kentucky officers. The girl, over whom the fight occurred, saw the tragedy and fainted.

KILLED BY A TOUGH.

Jeanerette, La., August 25.—Joseph Sanders, a merchant, was shot and killed by Louis Nicks, a negro tough. Nicks escaped, but a mob is in pursuit and a lynching will follow his capture. Nicks was engaged in a fight with another negro in Sanders' store, and when Sanders attempted to stop the row he was shot by Nicks.

FIRE IN HAVANA.

Havana, August 25.—The big consolidated cigarette factory belonging to the American Tobacco company and British combine was destroyed by fire this evening. The loss is $250,000; fully insured.

STRUCK LEAD

Paducah Men Organize Company for Mining Purposes.

Located in Pope County and is Believed to be a Good Thing.

Articles of incorporation of the Paducah Mineral company were filed today.

The incorporators each hold ten shares at $100 per share, the corporation having $4,000 capital stock, and are: O. E. Whitesides, J. H. Cook, Geo. O. Wallace and C. L. Cook. The object of the corporation is to bore and deal in oil wells, mines and to transact a general mineral business in every branch and detail.

This company is to exploit a mine owned in Pope county, Ill., near Golconda. They have struck lead and believe a good thing will result from a development of the property and for that reason today organized the company.

AMERICAN BOAT WINS AGAIN

The Reliance Proves Herself the Faster Boat Again Today.

New York, August 25.—Large crowds today witnessed another victory for the American yacht Reliance. The unofficial starting time was: Reliance, 11:00.27, Shamrock III, 11:02.00. The finish was: Reliance, 2:15.25; Shamrock, 2:20.20.

11:05 a. m.—Shamrock handicapped 25 seconds as she crossed that much after handicapped gun fired.

11:05 a. m.—Reliance crossed on starboard tack, but Shamrock held away too long and was behind handicapped gun.

Immediately upon reaching line came about on port tack and headed for Jersey shore. Reliance followed.

11:15 a. m.—The yachts maintain their relative positions. Shamrock seemingly points as high and foots as fast as Reliance. Wind fell to five knots.

The Shamrock began gaining finally and at one time was in the lead, but could not hold out.

New York, 11:30 a. m.—Shamrock leading one length. Wind good.

11:35 a. m.—Reliance 1-4 mile in the lead now.

11:45 a. m.—Reliance now 3-4 of a mile in the lead.

12, noon.—Shamrock gaining on the Reliance.

12:30 p. m.—The wind at Highland Beach has hauled to southwest. Should this shift be felt at the points where the yachts are sailing it will benefit the Shamrock.

The Shamrock is certainly doing better work than last Saturday and is not within her time limit.

12:35.—The yachts disappeared in the fog.

Gov. Taft has sent to the war department a lengthy argument in favor of the proposed opium bill in the Philippines.

Mr. L. C. Gleun, of the U. S. Geological survey, left this morning for Metropolis, Ill., and returns to the city this evening. He has been here on government business, which consists of taking the temperature of the drinking water, and other data of that nature. He went to Mayfield yesterday and to Metropolis today. Mayfield's water supply is said to be one of the coldest and purest of the country.

It is generally conceded that the proposed finance bill will meet strong opposition from factions of both parties.

Sam Liebel has appealed a case from the quarterly court to the circuit court making the third time it will be tried.

Some time ago he was driving a mare when a street bridge broke and damaged the buggy and mare. He filed a suit in Justice Hook's court asking for $99.99 damages and lost the case. He next appealed to the quarterly court and lost there and now seeks to again the suit in circuit court.

Section 6, second class charter: "No person shall be eligible as a member of said department (legislative), who shall be directly or indirectly interested in any contract with the city or in any application thereof."

Further along the section says: "The absence or cessation of any of the foregoing qualifications, or the occurring of any of the foregoing disqualifications after election or during the term of office, shall work a forfeiture of the office and the general council shall so declare, etc."

If the city ratifies the bond, it is claimed, it will be a plain contract between the city and the bond company, the latter to guarantee the city certain things. Councilman Hummel, a member of the legislative department, will then it is alleged, be indirectly interested in a contract to which the city is a party by getting a commission and it is claimed will thus forfeit his office.

As to Councilman Hummel, however, allowing his company to take the business, here is what the law says:

MAY LOSE HIS JOB

Will Councilman Hummel be Interested in Contract?

This Company to Furnish Bond For Street Work and Wants to Draw Its Own Bond.

MUCH TALK ABOUT IT

Some of the city officials, judging from talk on the streets, are now hot after Councilman Hummel's scalp. A bond company for which he is said to be local agent has made the $20,000 bond furnished by Contractor E. C. Terrell for a faithful carrying out of the contract for street paving, and if it has, it is claimed, Councilman Hummel, or the firm to which he belongs, will get a commission and thus disqualify the councilman from the sixth ward.

Last night, as told in the council report, a bond was presented by the contractor's representatives for the city to sign. The bond the city desired to sign, and which had been drawn up by the city attorney, was marked "void," and instead one was presented which it is alleged Councilman Hummel himself drew up, and which no doubt for some reason suited his company better. This is one of the things that precipitated the row in the board, and broke up the meeting.

Many say it is a downright violation of the law for Councilman Hummel to get any benefit from the bond, and if the council ratifies the bond given in Councilman Hummel's company, that the minute he gets a commission he disqualifies himself, and it will be up to the general council to investigate.

There were two bond companies that desired to make the $20,000 bond for Mr. Terrell. Each was asked for a rate and it is claimed Mr. Hummel's company wanted over $100 more than the other company, and either reduced its price or else Councilman Hummel was given the preference. The other company offered to sign any sort of bond for the city that Contractor Terrell would sign. The company Mr. Hummel represented would not sign the bond the city drew up. It drew up its own bond.

RAILROAD CHANGES

Straight Tips as to the New Officials.

Reported Trainmaster Sheridan Has Resigned and Mr. A. J. Jorgenson Will Succeed Him.

OTHER NEWS OF THE RAILS

There are a great many rumors afloat relative to changes in railroad circles, and the papers have differed greatly in the matter. The Sun has a straight tip of the changes in superintendents which is as follows: Superintendent A. Philbrick, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, will be transferred to the Tennessee division to succeed A. H. Egan who will be transferred to the Louisville division. There had been some talk of Colonel Jack Flynn coming here as superintendent but this is probably incorrect as he was only lately made superintendent of the Louisiana division.

It is reported that Trainmaster J. F. Sheridan, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, has resigned and will go to Louisville to enter business. Mr. Sheridan was seen this morning relative to the report and stated that he had nothing to say yet. It is given out from reliable source, however, that he has resigned and the matter is being kept quiet until a successor can be named. Mr. A. J. Jorgenson, who acted trainmaster for Mr. Sheridan a few weeks ago while the latter was away attending the bedside of his sick father, is tipped as a successor. Mr. Jorgenson recently resigned as chief dispatcher of the Louisville division.

It now takes over two hours to make the run from Paducah to Cairo over the new Cairo extension of the I. C., but within the next 10 days the officials hope to cut the time to less than an hour and are working on a proposed schedule now.

A dispatch says the Louisville office knows nothing of Trainmaster Sheridan's reported resignation.

Engine No. 290, which is today working in the switching service, this morning ran into a string of flat cars at the depot but fortunately did not strike with sufficient force to damage either the cars or engine. The engine was switching cars and got too hard a start, the engineer being unable to stop soon enough to prevent a collision.

Mr. F. E. Ashton, of Island Point, Va., has accepted the position as second triek dispatcher for the Tennessee division of the I. C. road in the dispatcher's office in Fulton, to succeed Dispatcher Showalter who has resigned to go to the Northern Pacific. Mr. Ashton formerly held a position as dispatcher at Fulton.

The local Illinois Central wrecker was sent to Iron Ore Hill this morning to pick up two cars which were derailed Saturday night. The cars were "piled" off the main line and are lying over in the clear. The wrecker will pick them up and bring them to the shops for repairs.

Roadmaster J. M. Russell, of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, was in the city today on business.

EASY FOR HENDERSON.

Paducah was easy for Henderson yesterday afternoon. The home team is bad enough at its best, judging from its position in the percentage column, but with several men crippled it is much worse. Lloyd pitched yesterday and while they didn't make any more hits off him than the Paducah boys made off Cox, the visitors bunched their hits and won easily. Lloyd gave eight men passes to first, four in one inning, and in addition it is claimed that Bassett's umpiring favored Henderson.

The following summary tells the tale:

BASEBALL NOTES.

The baseball season lasts little over a month longer in this league.

It would take Paducah a long time to get off the bottom, even if she could win.

Freeman lost another game yesterday. Those who thought he would be in the "big league" next year probably wonder how he will manage to stay in the little one.

Cairo comes here tomorrow for a series, and there ought to be a revival of baseball enthusiasm. This will be Cairo's last series on the local grounds unless an extra series is subsequently arranged.

Bassett didn't give very good satisfaction in his decisions yesterday, but he was in a better position to judge than anyone else and may have been right after all. The losing side usually kicks on the umpire.

Nickens pitched for Clarksville yesterday and Cairo's salvation band of sluggers couldn't do anything with him. He is said to be the speediest pitcher in the league, but he hasn't control of the ball, and as farmed out by Nashville. He throws so hard that the catchers can't hold him.

The "Lax Fos" baseball team went to Mayfield this morning to play the Mayfield club and hopes to return with a few Graves county scalps. The Mayfield team is a strong one and the local Lax Fos team also has several excellent players in the lineup. Marshall Unreave will pitch for the locals and Wilson Poryear will act behind the bat. This will be the initial game for the "Lax Fos" boys.

Newt Atkinson has resigned the captaincy of the Huntsville team. The players were allowed to choose their own captain and Lawler has been elected. The Columbia management has signed Walters, formerly catcher for the Henderson team of the E. I. T. league.—Hopkinsville New Era.

A feature of the game was Captain Street's temper, when he threw the ball over the grand stand because one of his players was slow in throwing the ball home.—Cairo Bulletin.

TRAIN KILLS TWO

CARRIES MANGLED BODIES ON PILOT OF ENGINE, LOCKED IN EACH OTHER'S ARMS.

Centralia, Ill., Aug. 25—Hiram Maxfield and Charlie Johnson were killed by Illinois Central No. 8, at Springs Crossing, in the southern limits of Centralia. The men were Modern Woodmen and were returning in a buggy from a picnic of the order that had been held at Hoxleyton. They were struck by the boiler, and when found by the crew were lying dead on the pilot of the engine locked in each other's arms. The buggy, a new and costly rubber-tired rig, was completely demolished and some of the timbers were found a quarter of a mile from the scene of the accident.

BILL ARP SUCCUMBS.

Carterville, Ga., Aug. 25—Maj. C. H. Smith died last night. He had been in a very feeble condition for some time. Maj. Smith was one of the best known literary men in the south. He wrote under the nom de plume of "Bill Arp" and his articles won him great distinction.

A LONG-LELT WANT.

IT IS SUPPLIED AT LAST IN PADUCAH.

Good natured people are often irritable.

If you knew the reason you would not be surprised.

Ever have itching piles?

Not sick enough to go to bed; not well enough to be content.

The constant itching sensation.

Hard to bear; harder to get relief.

Spoils your temper, nearly drives you crazy.

Isn't relief and cure a long-felt want?

You can have relief and cure if you will follow the advice of a local citizen.

J. R. Womble, of 1005 South Fourth street, carpenter by trade, says:

"For six years itching hemorrhoids were the bane of my existence. During the day when overheated I suffered and at night my rest was disturbed. I tried everything which I read or which friends and acquaintances advised me to try, still the hemorrhoids existed. The first application of Doan's Ointment procured at DuBois & Co's drug store gave me relief. After the second day's treatment I slept the succeeding night like a child. It is nearly three months since I stopped the use of Doan's Ointment and there has been no sign of a return. This should leave no doubt in the minds of Paducah people about the merits claimed for that preparation."

PLENTY WAS DOING

But None of it Was for the Interest of the City.

Council Meeting Comes Near Being a Free For All Because of Councilman Hummel.

MOST DISGRACEFUL SCENE

Mayor Yelzer last evening called a meeting of the city council to ratify the contract bond of Mr. E. C. Terrell, who has the contract for paving several blocks of brick street here.

The mayor's plan when he has anything he wants done is apparently to have both boards meet the same night and push it through all in one night, without giving the boards time to think over the matters in hand. Last night the council was called in special session to pass on the contractor's bond. The aldermen occupied back seats for the purpose of meeting afterwards to also act on the matter, but they didn't meet.

Mr. A. W. Greif presided over the council in the absence of President Charles Reed, and the first thing in order was to consider the bond offered by Mr. Terrell. It developed that the bond had been drawn up by Councilman Hummel, and not by the city's legal representative, Solicitor Worten, nor had it been referred to the solicitor, and this started the row.

Mr. Worten alluded to the councilman as the "mayor's" "special agent" and the mayor quickly denied the allegation, which prompted Solicitor Worten to apologize to the mayor. The solicitor and Councilman Hummel have not been on the best of terms for several months past and during the excitement they said a plenty to each other, and in the midst of their pleasant personalities Councilman Brooks moved to adjourn, and Chairman Greif succeeded in stopping Councilman Hummel's flow of eloquence long enough to put the question, which carried. The council meeting cost the taxpayers over $30 and the people thus secured no benefit from it.

Solicitor Worten informed the council last night that the contract could not be made binding at present. The aldermen substituted "Bannon brick" for "Evansville brick" and ratified the contract with this brick specified. The council will now have to ratify the contract with Bannon brick or if they substitute Evansville brick again, the contract as changed will have to go back to the aldermen again.

WOMEN FIGHT DUEL

PARIS AGOG OVER THE LATEST SOCIAL SENSATION.

Paris, Aug. 25—Mme. Jeanne de Wick and Mlle. Marguerite Davise fought a duel with sabers in the secluded park of a Fanborg St. Germain palace. The ladies, once great chums, had fallen out over a man, or, rather, two men. Marguerite accused Jeanne of trying to take away her beau, and Jeanne said Marguerite was too friendly with her husband. After a free fight in a bonfire it was decided that the mutual insults could be wiped out with blood only, and a regular duel à la Boni Castellane was decided upon, the fight to cease only after one of the contestants had shed blood.

Jeanne, Marguerite, four friends and a female doctor assembled at 5 in the morning and the two ladies stripped to the waist. Only the region of the heart was defended by a strip of coat of mail.

They fought five rounds with excellent skill, so the witnesses say, until Jeanne uttered a piercing cry and dropped her foil. At the same time the seconds grabbed Marguerite from behind to prevent her from doing further damage. Jeanne's wounds needed three stitches—count them!—and all the ladies succeeded in catching a few drops of her blood on their handkerchiefs. Young society men are offering from 500 to 1000 francs for these trophies and the combatants are lionized by society.

WATCH FOR A CHILL.

However slight at this time of the year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malaria. A disposition to yawn and an all-tired-out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purifies the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

How to Obtain a Lovely

COMPLEXION

Clear and Beautiful

It is every woman's duty to be as youthful and good looking as possible, and there is nothing which adds more beauty than a lovely complexion, and there is no remedy which will restore the complexion and give one that youthful appearance like Mme. A. Ruppert's World Renowned Face Bleach. This grand remedy clears the skin of every discoloration, and impurity, including pimples, freckles, moth patches, brown spots, liver marks, comedones, flesh-worms, blackheads, oiliness, sallowness, muddiness and skin diseases. It accomplishes these wonderful effects by drawing the impurities and discolorations to the surface of the skin and then removing these blemishes by gradually sealing off a slight surface of the outer skin. It does this in so natural a manner as to be entirely harmless to the most delicate complexion, and, having this action, it cannot fail to produce excellent results.

Most marvelous results are obtained when Face Bleach is used according to my new Special Directions in conjunction with my Egyptian Balm, which nourishes and feeds the tissues and glands of the skin, and adds the finishing touch which refines, purifies and preserves the skin in its pristine splendor, giving it the glow of youth.

Now, in order that every lady reader of this paper may obtain the highest possible effect from the use of my preparations, I will make the following stipendous offer to all callers at the below address. A bottle of my Face Bleach, a trial jar of my Egyptian Balm, a bar of my most exquisite Almond Oil Complexion Soap, my New Special Directions, my book, "How to BE BEAUTIFUL,"—all for $2. THE PROUD FROG.

Find the frog.

An Ox, grazing in a meadow, chanced to set his foot on a young Frog and crushed him to death. His brothers and sisters, who were playing near, at once ran to tell their mother what had happened. "The monster that did it, mother, was such a size," said they. "The mother, who was a vain old thing, thought that she could easily make herself as large. "Was it as big as this?" she asked, puffing and blowing herself out. "Oh, much bigger than that," replied the young Frogs. "As this, then," cried she, puffing and blowing again with all her might. "Nay, mother," said they, "if you were to try till you burst yourself out still more and burst herself indeed."

Moral:—Whenever a man endeavors to live equal with one of a greater fortune than himself he is sure to share a like fate with the frog in the fable.

THE OUTLOOK BRIGHT J. D. WOOD FAVORITE

Col. C. M. Barnett Sees Victory Ahead For us.

The Republicans Will Stand Together and Work Hard.

Washington, August 25—Colonel Cleo M. Barnett, surveyor of customs, at Louisville and chairman of the Republican state central committee, stepped over in Washington on his way home from Atlantic City. He discussed matter concerning the forthcoming gubernatorial campaign in Kentucky with Commissioner Yerkes, and at the conclusion of the conference said the questions considered related chiefly to politics to be pursued during the campaign.

Mr. Barnett expressed himself as being confident of the election of Colonel Belknap and the other candidates on the Republican ticket.

"The Republicans of Kentucky," he said, "purpose working harmoniously during the campaign, and vigorously, too. Everybody is satisfied with the ticket, even though all the neophytes did not get on it. The Republican managers to a man consider the prospects of success this year better than they have been in many years."

"They expect to profit considerably by the dissatisfaction which prevails in the Democratic ranks."

"Every effort will be made to get an honest count of ballots in places where Democrats have perpetrated gross frauds in the past, and if we are successful in this respect our ticket ought certainly go through with a comfortable majority."

GOES 1000 MILES

FORMER GOLOONDA GIRL LEAVES FOR THE FAR WEST.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 25—Miss Lillie Taylor, a brave little Egyptian school teacher, started this week on a ten thousand mile trip to join the lover of her childhood days. She resigned her school in Jackson county and started for San Francisco, where she will sail for New Zealand, to become the wife of J. Hillis Boos.

Years ago these two young people were playmates on the Ohio river in Golconda, Pope county. When he was in short pants and she wore short dresses they plighted their troth and planned what they would do when they were grown up people. Her family moved to Carbondale, and she attended the southern Illinois normal, then began teaching school. He drifted from one thing to another until he landed in New Zealand in a lucrative position with the Deering harvester company. Time and distance did not lessen their attachment for each other, and when he had provided a home for her she quickly dropped her work and left her friends at his bidding.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Davis and daughter have returned from Chicago.

Talk of the Populists Nominating Him For Governor.

The Convention Will Be Held at Louisville September 16.

The convention of the People's party and Allied Parties will take place at Louisville September 16 and Mr. Joe A. Parker will probably be chairman. The most prominently mentioned person for the gubernatorial nomination is J. D. Wood, of Central City, who is well known in Paducah, and is one of the prominent members of the Mine Workers' union.

Yesterday's Courier-Journal says of the convention.

"From present indications there seems to be little chance for any contest to be made for the nomination for governor. With one or two exceptions all the leading members of both parties are greatly in favor of the nomination being handed to James D. Wood. Mr. Wood, who is state president of the United Mine workers, is a Republican, but the members of both parties insist that politics will not be carried into the convention. Mr. Wood has been in consultation with the leaders of the two parties, who have made known to him their intention of placing him in nomination. While Mr. Wood has not said that he will not accept the nomination if it is handed to him, he has made it plain that he is not desirous of leading the party. Great pressure is being brought to bear on him, and it is thought that when the convention is called to order he will accept the nomination."

"It is expected that when the convention assembles at least 125 delegates will be in attendance. All nominations will be made according to a two-thirds vote. This was decided upon in order to prevent any hard feelings upon the part of the party that has the smallest representation."

ADMITTED TO BAR

MR. T. W. DOLBERRY, OF PADUCAH, PASSES EXAMINATION.

Mr. Thaddeus W. Dolberry, clerk in the Paducah postoffice and Mr. Tom McGregor, of Benton, were yesterday admitted to the bar at Eddyville, which means that they are licensed to practice anywhere in Kentucky.

Mr. Dolberry has been a resident of Paducah for the past several years, and is an unusually intelligent young man with many friends. He will retain his position in the postoffice.

Mr. McGregor is also well known in Paducah, having about a year ago been a substitute mail carrier. He resigned to return to Marshall county and practice law.

Miss Bertha Hill has returned from visiting Mrs. Mac Hill, of Middlesboro, Ky., and was accompanied by Mrs. Hill.

PAYING THE FIDDLER

Local Democrats Wonder Why They are Charged so Much.

Primary to Cost About $300, and the Candidates Will Contribute $500.

SAYS THEY NEEDN'T RUN

Some of the Democratic candidates for municipal nominations are kicking long and loud over the assessments imposed on them by the Democratic committee. They figure it out that the primary September 10 will cost less than $300, and that some where near $500 will be raised by the assessment of the candidates. They don't understand why the committee should make them contribute $200 or more than will be necessary for the purposes for which it is raised.

Chairman R. G. Caldwell was asked by a reporter this morning what the primary would cost and he said about $300. He was then asked what amount the assessment of candidates would raise, and Secretary Will Lydon, who was standing nearby, answered by saying that that was their private business.

This is about all the satisfaction that could be gotten in regard to the assessment.

Chairman Caldwell said he understood that there was some kicking, but that the committee was going to get enough to be on the safe side and those who didn't like the price could keep their money and not enter the primary.

A little figuring will show the Democrats how they are being charged an exorbitant price for the sake of running for office.

The assessments will bring in the following amounts:

Mayor, three candidates, $ 75
Clerk, two candidates, 40
Treasurer, three candidates, 60
Assessor, two candidates, 20
Solicitor, two candidates, 20
City attorney, two candidates, 14
City jailer, five candidates, 75
Aldermen, eight candidates, 40
Councilmen, twelve candidates, 60
School trustee, twelve candidates, 12
City engineer, one candidate, 20

$436

The above foots up to $436, and it does not give them all. It gives the number of candidates announced with the exception of for council and aldermen and school trustee. The minimum number is given for these 12 councilmen, 8 aldermen and 12 school trustees, but there will, doubtless be many more than one being candidates from some of the wards and each additional one means $5 more to the fund. The assessment will probably bring in more than $500, and yet those who know from experience say that the primary can be held for less than $300.

BEN HAD FORGOTTEN

SUCCESSFUL LOVER VICTIM OF HIS OWN TRICK.

Boston Man Tells of Characteristic Incident in the Early Life of Gen. Butler—Proof That "Pride Goeth Before a Fall."

A Boston man came across the following incident in the life of the late Gen. Butler the other day, and it seems such an example of the truth of that old saying, "The boy is father of the man," that it is worth repeating.

In his youth, so the story goes, Ben, with two other unfortunates, sought the hand of a maiden in northern Maine.

The race was very even, and for a long time the issue was in doubt. But one day the maiden told the three rivals that, if they would all come on a certain evening, she would give them her answer.

The future lawyer, fearing that he did not stand so high in the maiden's graces as the others, saw a chance for the exercise of his wit. Strategy alone would win the day.

On one side of a river lived the damsel, and about opposite on the other side boarded the anxious lovers.

The river was bridged at but one point, and that was in the center of the village, nearly a mile from these houses. But some workmen had felled a log and thrown it across the stream, and on this Bridge of Sighs the lovers were wont to wend their way.

Ben started a little early on the fateful evening, and took with him a ball of soft soap. Crossing the log backward, he carefully greased it behind him, and then triumphantly entered the fair one's abode.

Hardly had the conversation begun, when through the open window steps were heard on the opposite bank, then a creaking, as if someone had stepped upon the log, and then a splash, accompanied by muffled epithets of rage and vexation.

Ben smiled and winked contemptuously at his brand new lavender trousers, while the young lady looked surprised, but said nothing. Time passed, and no one came. Presently there was the sound of another approach, and the previous process was repeated, saving this time the "blankety-blanks" were of a more vigorous character and longer continued.

Ben winked the other eye, and gazed complacently at the gay white vest which completed his careful "get-up."

As to what followed in the parlor we are not definitely informed, but suffice to say at a late hour Ben issued forth happy and elated at his success, bearing the promise of his fair one's hand.

So happy was he that all recollection of the log's slippery condition had escaped his mind, and, oblivious to all else save his good fortune, he sailed out upon the log. But, alas, "pride goeth before destruction, and a naughty spirit before a fall." Into the river he went, new trousers, vest and all, and tradition tells us that the atmosphere, already murky, on Ben's issue from the river's depths was of such a character as to rival Dante's "Inferno."—Boston Herald.

UNFORTUNATE WOMAN

HER LIFE ONE OF MANY TRAGEDIES AND MISFORTUNES.

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 25—Mrs. Delilah Henson, who figured prominently in a murder trial in Perry county eight years ago, has but recently returned to this section a most unfortunate woman, entirely blind, without any means of support and a charge upon her relatives who reside at Ava and Campbell Hill.

John B. Henson, husband of the woman, died in 1885 under peculiar circumstances. Suspicious relatives caused the body to be exhumed and it was found he died from arsenical poisoning. Evidence accumulated and Mrs. Henson was indicted for the crime, together with a man who had been employed by Henson during his lifetime. She was confined in jail several months and when brought to trial was acquitted. The property which was left her by her husband was all absorbed in the defense of her life.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Paxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them, which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them; the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Mrs. F. M. Ferriman left today for New York to be gone until September 5.

FREE TRIPS TO ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR. ALL EXPENSES OF THE 120 MOST POPULAR SCHOOL TEACHERS IN THE STATE PAID.

School children and public generally invited to vote to determine the most popular in every county. Votes ten cents each, ten cast at one time. All money over and above trip expenses of teachers to go into erection of the Kentucky Building at the fair. Every voter thus given the satisfaction of knowing a worthy cause and important object have been aided, at the same time a favorite teacher has received recognition. Contest conducted under auspices of Educational Exhibit Committee of Kentucky Exhibit Association, the organization formed to raise $100,000 for a Kentucky Building and full display of the State's products and resources at the fair, the legislature having failed to make an appropriation. Every educator in the State, whether teacher in public or private schools, or principal of a school, or member of faculty of academy, college or university, medical, dental or theological institution, is eligible to election. Members of the Educational Exhibit Committee alone excepted.

Names of all school children voting to be enrolled in the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Kentucky will have an educational exhibit occupying 2,000 square feet of space in the Palace of Education. The Exposition is to be the greatest international event in the world's history. The 120 teachers chosen will be lucky indeed in being conferred this trip to the fair. Every county elects its own most popular educator. The county outside of Jefferson casting the largest number of votes will be allowed to send two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular.

THE VOTES WILL BE TEN CENTS EACH, TEN CONSTITUTING A BALLOT.

At ten cents each every school child in the State will be able to cast at least one vote for his or her favorite teacher. But the voting will not be confined to school children.

PARENTS OF PUPILS OR ANY OF THEIR FRIENDS MAY VOTE. The purpose of the Association being to elect the most popular school teacher in each county, as to considered by the public generally, as well as by the school children. Ballots contain ten spaces, so clubs of ten pupils may be arranged and each giving ten cents be credited with ten or her vote. If one person desires to cast ten votes, it may be done by writing his or her name on one of the spaces and remitting one dollar. It is not required that the name of the person voting be given at all. All of the spaces for voters' names may be left blank. The Association wants, however, to enroll in the Kentucky Building at St. Louis next year the name of every child who cast one or more votes in the contest. Pupils are asked therefore to sign their names plainly to the ballots.

ALL EXPENSES OF THE TEACHERS WILL BE PAID BY THE ASSOCIATION. This will include railroad transportation from Louisville to St. Louis and return, board at one of the best hotels in the city for six days and admission to the exposition grounds for six days.

THREE PARTIES WILL BE MADE UP FROM THE MOST POPULAR TEACHERS to make the trip more profitable and enjoyable. Each of these parties will consist of forty (40) teachers. This would make a total of 1,200 teachers, but as there are only 120 counties in Kentucky, the Association has decided to elect two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular—to go from that county—Jefferson excepted—which casts the greatest number of votes in the contest.

ALL TEACHERS IN THE STATE STAND ON AN EQUAL FOOTING in this contest. The teacher with only twenty pupils may receive more votes than the teacher with five or six times as many enrolled in his or her school, because the voting is not confined to children. The public will be an important factor.

Votes may be cast for any person who taught school during 1902 or is teaching now. This gives the teacher of a five months' school, which closed in November or December, the opportunity to be voted for during the vacation period.

ANY NUMBER OF BALLOTS MAY BE CAST AT ONE TIME. There is no limit. The more dollars sent in for any one teacher the more votes he or she will be credited with.

ONE DOLLAR CASTS TEN VOTES; TWO DOLLARS CASTS TWENTY VOTES; THREE DOLLARS CASTS THIRTY VOTES; FOUR DOLLARS CASTS FORTY VOTES; FIVE DOLLARS CASTS FIFTY VOTES; TEN DOLLARS CASTS A HUNDRED VOTES; ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS CASTS ONE THOUSAND VOTES.

All of the money received in this contest, over and above that used in defraying expenses of the 120 most popular teachers of the State on their trip to the World's Fair, will go for the erection of a Kentucky Building at the exposition; so every voter in this contest may have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has aided a worthy cause.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTESTANTS WILL BE PRINTED FREQUENTLY in each county to show his or her friends how the race is being run. Begin voting now for your favorite school teacher. The votes will be counted under the supervision of the Educational Exhibit Committee of the Association. The members of this committee are as follows: Prof. H. C. Brownell, Louisville; Chairman, Prof. H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Prof. R. P. Hallett, Louisville; Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. J. P. Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Dinwiddie, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Berea; Dr. R. B. Hunkton, Louisville; Dr. E. Y. Mullins, Louisville; Dr. Arthur Yager, Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Froge, Frankfort; Prof. C. J. Crabbe, Ashland; Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Owensboro; Prof. T. S. Alley, Bellevue; Prof. C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Prof. R. H. Spencer, Louisville; Mrs. Fattie S. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily R. Bracken, Louisville; and Mrs. M. B. Tucker, Louisville. Members of the Educational Committee are not eligible to election in this contest.

REMEMBER EVERY COUNTY ELECTS ITS OWN FAVORITE TEACHER. Competition between counties only applies to the race for the 120 trip, the county outside of Jefferson, casting the largest total number of votes being granted the distinction of sending two teachers.

The result will be announced in every paper in the State, and in addition to this, a congratulatory message will go to the teacher elected in each county. Later the details of the trip will be arranged, each teacher chosen being given the privilege of selecting the month—June, July or August, 1904—in which he or she wants to make the trip.

COL. BELKNAP MAKING FRIENDS

Colonel Morris K. Belknap, Republican nominee for governor, has made many friends in the districts he has thus far traversed, and the Democrats who have been "expatiating on his coldness" and aristocratic bearing, are surprised at the campaign he is pushing. It is said Colonel Belknap can get over more ground and meet more people than many of the smoothest politicians in the state, and that he makes a good impression on everybody.

Colonel Belknap is a man of unusual ability. He is not a politician and doubtless does not desire to be one. He is a successful business man, however, and one of those kind who as a rule are too busy to consent to offer for public office. The people of Kentucky need such a man for governor. They need a man whose own life shows him to be a man of ability. Colonel Belknap's career shows this, and the business interests he has in Kentucky, and the concern he feels in the prosperity of the state and the welfare of the people as demonstrated by his consenting to accept the nomination for governor, show that he will do his best for the state if elected.

The Lexington Leader says of his trip to Lexington:

"It is the prevailing opinion among those with whom he has come in contact that he will grow rapidly in favor with the people and that before the election there will be an overwhelming demand for his election, and that he will be elected. Men of all parties who care nothing about politics see that in this man Kentucky has a chance to elect a governor wholly free from the intrigues of the politician, and one who will give the state an administration which will be its pride for years to come.

"It is seldom that such men as Colonel Belknap," said a business man yesterday, "turn aside from the engaging duties of large affairs and from a business where fortunes are involved and offer themselves for public service. The opportunity of electing such a man does not often come to any state, and I believe as the campaign progresses the people will be drawn to him, and that his election will become a certainty long before election day."

SEE THAT IT PROTECTS.

The city fortunately has not ratified the bond guaranteeing a faithful fulfillment of the contract to pave certain blocks of streets in the business part of the city. And further it should not ratify a bond until it has ascertained whether or not the bond gives to the taxpayers of Paducah the protection they are entitled to, something they did not get when Broadway was paved.

The company that has been selected to make the present contractor's bond is the same that furnished bond for the contractor on the Broadway job. The latter bond guaranteed a faithful carrying out of the contract, and one of the provisions was that the street be kept in repair for five years, but the street has never yet been repaired, and the bond company has never been sued. Whether this is simply because the boards do not want to sue, or simply that the bond is invalid, which is claimed by some is the case, is not known, inasmuch as no test has been made in the courts. If the bond does not protect, however, and nothing can be collected under it, the city should take care that it does not rush into something similar now.

When the boards ratify the contract they should be certain it is a good bond, and will amply protect the city. The company that is to furnish bond this time for the street contract drew up its own agreement discarding the one the city drew up. It is a good time for the city to do a little investigating.

The good road move in this county this summer did not meet with the success that it deserved. McCracken county has good roads a portion of the year, but never as good roads as she could and should have. The last issue of the Larue County Herald thus illustrates the point: "If a fellow could buy Larue county at the value put on it by a farmer when his empty wagon gets stuck in the mud in the early spring time and then sell it at the value that would be placed on it were good pike roads built all over it, he would have enough profit to take the whole county to the world's fair next year." That's the idea exactly. If the county roads were improved substantially it would cost a great deal of money at the start, but in the long run it would be much cheaper. At present the thousands of dollars a year which go to make taxes higher, are practically thrown away, and just as much is necessary one year as the year before because the work is not substantial. Our friends in the country should think these things over and if they would take more interest themselves in good roads they would be able to accomplish a great deal.

The United States is just completing the finest system of coast fortifications in the world. Each gun when complete costs nearly $200,000, and about fifteen million dollars more will be necessary to put the finishing touches to our defenses. Fully half a million dollars will then probably be spent on practice. This seems like extravagant play, but it is necessary not only to train the gunners, but also to acquaint them with the mechanism of the heavy guns they would be called on to handle in case of war.

The Republicans of Kentucky are having their laugh first, and it is the best thing they can do. It is better to have laughed and lost than never to have laughed at all.—Courier-Journal. Perhaps the Democrats are getting ready to steal the state again.

THE WAG IN EVIDENCE

FUN AT THE EXPENSE OF NEGLIGENT OFFICIALS.

A large puddle of black oil rests unmolested under a big post in front of Duke's tailor shop on Broadway. It drips from a big register of the same kind put in by some of the electrical companies, and is very disagreeable to look at, as well as to stand under. The city officials have never taken any steps however, to abate the nuisance, and today pedestrians were amused to find a placard on the post, "Oil Wells for Sale."

MARRIAGES IN CHRISTIAN.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 25—Garfield Dunning, a young planter of North Christian, and Miss Josephine Naves, of near Crofton, were married at the Crofton Baptist church, the Rev. P. P. Gladdish officiating. Eugene M. Gossett and Miss Rosa Belle Raddel, a young couple residing near Red Hill in the northern portion of this county, were married at the home of the bride's father, S. H. Ruddell, the Rev. P. A. Thomas, of the Methodist church officiating.

State Factory Inspector, Andy Ludwig, of Louisville, has left the city after a brief inspection of the local factories. He found them all in excellent condition.

GALESBURG BLOCK

Members of the Boards Adopt
This Brick last Night.

Called Meeting may Be Held This Evening to Formally Pass On It.

At an informal meeting of councilmen and aldermen held last night after the farcical meeting of the council it was decided among those who remained, which was nearly all, to use Galesburg brick. There was nothing official about it, but the agreement reached indicates that the members of the boards will vote for the Galesburg brick, and tonight there will probably be a called meeting to take action.

According to the opinion of the city attorney the boards cannot ratify the contract with Contractor E. C. Terrell and accept his bond until the kind of brick to be used is decided on and embodied in the contract.

It is possible that there will be a lively time in the boards this evening. In case the contract is ratified and the bond accepted by the city, Contractor Terrell will begin work at once.

WORK OF MODERN GUNS.

Magnificent Engines of Destruction Mounted in Fort Hancock.

The mortars at Fort Hancock look like pocket pistols in comparison with "Little Animosities." The officer in command sits in a small hut on a bridge above the powder magazines, giving his directions to the crew, in which ever direction the eyes may wander there is a gray mass of metal, an angel of death. It may be a rifle or a mortar. Both Miles and Merritt pronounce Fort Hancock impregnable. There are 16-inch rifles, 12-inch rifles, 10-inch rifles, two mortar batteries of 16 guns each and a pneumatic dynamite gun. The turn of a wheel or the raising of a level controls the directing of many tons of steel, so perfectly balanced are the "angels." Springs resisting the recoil of the mortars look like elephants' legs. "Tiffany" is aimed at an angle of 45 degrees. A whistle like a postman's blows three times, "Are you ready, Gridley? Fire!" Someone concealed presses a button. The shell sounds like 4,000,000 wild geese making their annual fall pilgrimage from Labrador to Cuba. Wagner has tried to imitate it in the fight of the Valkyries in "Die Walkure." It is said that no man has ever seen a modern mortar shell in flight. Long after its song has ceased and you have forgotten about it, comes the splash out at sea.—New York Press.

$100 DOLLARS REWARD FOR RAT KILLER.

The Stearns' Electric Paste company, of Chicago, have so much faith in their Electric Rat and Roach Paste that they offer a hundred dollars reward to any one who uses their Rat and Roach Paste and does not find it successful in killing off rats, mice, cockroaches, water bugs, etc. Their Electric Paste is easy to use, and is greedily devoured by rats, mice, bugs and all vermin. It is sure death, and gives universal satisfaction, especially as the rats and mice do not die in the house. Druggists and grocers generally have the paste for sale, or a package will be sent express prepaid on receipt of price by the Stearns' Electric Paste Co., Chicago, Ill. Small size, 25c.; large size eight times the quantity, $1.00.

EARN MONEY EASY

The man Who Loops - the - Loop Gets $1000 For Work.

Works But Twelve Seconds a Day, or Little Over a Minute a Month.

"An enumeration of the chances that men take with death in order to entertain the great amusement loving public, would be very incomplete without the addition of that latest and greatest sensation, viz: the looping of the loop on a bicycle," said James D. DeWolfe, one of the agents of the Forepaugh-Sells circus, who was here last week. Mr. DeWolfe gave some very interesting statistics concerning this great act, which he declares is "the greatest sensation ever presented anywhere, at any time." In the course of conversation he said: "It is difficult to conceive how a man of sound mind can be tempted by money to so ardently flirt with death. The cost of this act is $1,000 per week, and it consumes just six seconds of our entertainment program. The act is presented twice daily, and therefore Diavolo works just 72 seconds per week. But his work is such that we have as yet been unable to find another living man who can perform it. The basis of this act is the overcoming of gravitation by velocity. It has been mathematically proven that a freely moving body weighing 225 pounds can descend a 110 foot runway at an angle of 45 degrees and gain sufficient velocity to rise almost perpendicularly 23 1/2 feet. In other words, Diavolo weighs 160 pounds and his bicycle 65 pounds; the runway is 110 feet long, placed at an angle of 45 degrees, and the 'loop' proper is just 23 1/2 feet in diameter. "The speed attained is terrific, and the slightest swerve from the center of the narrow, 3 foot runway, means instant death. It is absolutely, without qualification, the greatest hair-raising demonstration of dare devilry ever witnessed—but it only lasts six seconds."

A DENTIST FOR CROCODILES.

Zoo Should Get One to Amuse the Children.

"I wish we had a crocodile plover here. It would amuse the children," said John Lover, a keeper at the Zoo. "What kind of a bird is a crocodile plover?" some one asked. "It's the crocodile's dentist," Lover replied. "It keeps the crocodile's mouth in good condition."

"The crocodile," he went on, "is much annoyed by a parasitic insect that enters his mouth and breeds there, in crannies that he can't get at. The plover feeds on this insect and will go into a crocodile's mouth fearlessly after it. The crocodile seems to recognize instinctively that the bird is his friend. He lets it hop in and out of his mouth without molestation. The children would be much amused to see such a sight. We ought to get a crocodile plover by all means."

"Crocodile plover. Humph!" remarked a bystander in a pointed manner.—Philadelphia Record.

ONE OF THE WARMEST

Yesterday Was 100 and Last Night was 76 Degrees.

One Prostration Reported—Many Suffer From the Heat.

Last night was next to the hottest of the summer, but as there was no breeze it was perhaps felt more than the hottest night. The maximum yesterday was 100 degrees in the shade, and last night the lowest reached by the mercury was 76. This is the highest minimum this summer with the exception of July 18, when it was 77.

The hottest nights on record in Paducah were 80 degrees, four degrees hotter than last night. Two years ago there were several nights during which the minimum was 50, namely on June 23 and in July 23 and 24.

It is believed that this will be the last 100 degree weather we will have this year, although there is certain to be much more hot weather before fall.

Today has been considerably cooler than yesterday, and the temperature will probably not go over 96 today.

Mrs. George Bauer, of Louisville, was overcome by heat Sunday and had an attack of heart trouble, on an I. C. train, while on route to this city to visit the family of Mr. J. Andy Hauer. It was thought for a time that she would die, but she was restored. She is still quite ill, however, at the Bauer home on North Seventh street.

At 2 o'clock the temperature was 97 and slowly climbing. Cooler weather is promised for tomorrow.

SOME SPANISH DISHES

PALATABLE IF ONE IS FOND OF
RED PEPPER.

Breakfast Preparations Served in South American Homes Are a Delight to the Memory—All Highly Spiced and Need Some Acquaintance.

Sidney Smith, when he said "My idea of heaven is eating fole gras to the sound of trumpets," probably never had the experience of a Spanish breakfast. In fact, no one without this experience could have his natural prejudice to Spanish cooking overcome.

The memory of a breakfast in Lima, Peru, or in Valparaiso, Chile, in a real Spanish home, will sharpen the appetite of anyone who has ever enjoyed it, and a sonnet of a real Castilian type is especially charming at the table, especially so when with her dainty fingers she picks up a sweet morsel of food and puts it to a guest's mouth.

And a guest would hardly invite criticism if he made so bold as to kiss the tips of the fingers for so great a compliment, although a strictly fastidious person might not approved it as the highest form of table etiquette.

Breakfast is not served till 11 o'clock, and as one takes his seat at the table the senoras and senoritas are present in their white gowns, with their long black hair hanging in two loose plaits down their backs.

Greetings are exchanged, and then breakfast begins. First, a soup, called chupe, which is made of a kind of crab, is served. Then comes fruit. The next course is broiled caribina, which resembles fresh mackerel.

Then follows the more substantial foods—fried bananas with poached eggs, lamb chops breaded or beefsteak, with fried potatoes and lettuce salad, or ham and eggs.

Anulque, a native dish, is served at the same time, and this is a compound of red peppers and potatoes, made so hot that the tears will start from the eyes of the novice as he swallows it. Then come rice and plantain, another fiery dish, its chief component being mustard or curry.

Coffee is next served in tiny cups. The breakfast ends with claret and cigars, the women not only lighting the cigars for the men, but cigarettes for themselves.

Pescado is a common dish, but indulged in most in the Lenten season. It is simply fish, generally served with some elaborate sauce, usually mayonnaise. Sometimes it is prepared with oil and baked.

Cacido puchero is a dish that may mean any one of several different foods, since cacido puchero really means "boiled in an earthen pot." Alla cacido puchero is a dish composed of some kind of meat, Spanish peas and other vegetables boiled in an earthen pot. Garbanos, which are universally on the dinner table, are the common chick peas.

And, as at breakfast, soup is the first course, one kind being la sopa de ajo, or garlic soup. It is made of water, oil, red pepper well ground and a little garlic. Slices of bread are also put into it, and often poached eggs. It is a favorite dish with all classes, and is considered the thing to give anyone who feels a "little seedy from the night before."

Gazpacho is a refreshing stimulant, it being composed of raw cucumber, onion, tomatoes and lettuce finely chopped up and passed through a sieve, there being added to it oil, vinegar, water and bits of bread.—New York Tribune.

HANNA AND HIS HASH.

Solitude of a Serving Man Lest He Indulge in It Too Freely.

As is generally known, Senator Hanna is a voracious eater of corn beef hash, and whenever he takes lunch at the capitol restaurant he orders that dish, which he has thought the cook to prepare in a manner peculiarly his own. As a result he has had many imitators and "corned beef a la Hanna" is a favorite luncheon dish with many senators. When Shaw, the head waiter of the senate restaurant, wants it prepared with unusual care he orders it this way:

"One corned beef hash for Senator Hanna."

The restaurant was doing a great business one day and everybody seemed to want corned beef hash. Fourteen times the order for "corned beef hash for Senator Hanna" was shouted to the chef. When the fifteenth order went down there was a rumbling noise in the kitchen and the chef shouted:

"That's fifteen orders for Senator Hanna. He better watch out or he'll founder himself."

"THE WOMAN IN BUSINESS."

She Explains Difference Between Engagement and Wedding Rings.

"As a new woman," she said, "I suppose you will object to the wedding ring as a symbol of man's tyranny?"

"Of course I shall," she replied. "Under no circumstances would I consent to wear such a thing. It is not essential to a marriage, and it stands for all that is objectionable in the marriage relation."

"And on the same theory," he continued, "I suppose you will refuse to wear an engagement ring also?"

"Well—no," she answered slowly and thoughtfully. "That's a very different matter."

"But theoretically it—"

"There is no use arguing," she interrupted. "I don't care what it is theoretically. Practically it is very often a diamond, while the wedding ring is only plain gold, and that makes all the difference in the world."

DRAMATIC RACE FOR LIFE.

Galloping Through a Tunnel in Front of a Fast Railway Train.

A very dramatic incident took place recently during a run of the Carmarthenshire hounds, when the master had a very narrow escape from death, says the London Tatler. The fox, hard pressed by the hounds, entered a railway tunnel, and before they could be stopped the whole pack dashed in after him. Mr. Harries, the master, realized their danger and without a moment's hesitation galloped into the tunnel to try and whip them off. He had got some little distance into the tunnel when suddenly he heard the dread roar of an approaching train, which was thundering along at terrific speed. The headlights of the engine glared at him.

It now became a veritable race for life. Mr. Harries clapped the spurs to his horse. On and on they rode at breakneck speed through the black tunnel, with the train thundering behind in the hot pursuit and gradually diminishing the distance between them. Luckily the engine driver caught a view of the flying horse and its rider against the sky line at the mouth of the tunnel and he slackened speed. Mr. Harries and his horse were saved. The fox and hounds also escaped unhurt.

Dog That Pumps His Own Drinking Water.

A dog that pumps his own drinking water is one of the curiosities of Frankford. This dog is a Newfoundland and his name is Jack. From the beginning of his career, water was always given to Jack in one way—from a basin set under a pump in his master's yard. He was little more than a puppy when his mind grasped the fact that the movement of the pump handle meant water for him. Accordingly, whenever he was thirsty he would take the handle in his teeth and shake it, barking vigorously. This gave his master an ingenious idea. The young man rigged to the handle a kind of pulley, with a cord hanging from it, and a piece of broom handle about six inches long, fastened to the end. To take hold of this piece of broom handle and shake it vigorously caused the rigging to move the handle up and down and a little water to flow. The first time the dog saw the dangling wood of a size so attractive and so suited to his mouth, he seized it, and he shook it up and down and from side to side. About a pint of water flowed into his basin and he took a drink. Ever since, whenever he has been thirsty, Jack has pumped for himself.—Philadelphia Record.

GENERAL GRANT'S BON MOT.

Witty Rejoinder That Is Credited to the "Silent Man."

A portrait of Jay Cooke, by Wm. M. Chase, is one of the best pictures at this year's exhibition of the Philadelphia academy of fine arts. Mr. Chase standing beneath the portrait the other afternoon, said:

"When Mr. Jay Cooke posed for me he told me of a bon-mot of Gen. Grant's. Grant was entertaining a clergyman one evening, and the clergyman had to make a certain train on a certain railroad or he would not get home that night. Therefore his host kept reminding him of the hour, but he would put the matter off and begin to talk in his fluent, clerical way again.

"Now, doctor, remember your train goes at 10:20," Grant for the tenth time said.

"That is all right about the train, General," returned the clergyman; "the Lord controls the trains."

"Yes," Grant chuckled, "but if you want to get this A. & B. line train, you had better start now. The Lord has had nothing to do with the A. & B. this many a year."—Pittsburg Gazette.

OUTING SPOTS IN THE NORTHWEST

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter-root valley in Montana; Lakes Feud d'Oreille and Clair d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. And don't forget that Yellowstone Park is the chief of all tourist shrines.

panel, and crossed to the opposite side of the room. People who passed the door found nothing to interest them and turned away. The gardener stayed beside me. Eagle glanced at him as if resenting his intrusion and asked me to bring her a candle and hold it near a mark on the tracery. The gardener himself, apologetic, but firm, stepped to the scene and took the candle. I do not know how the thing was done, or why the old spring and long unused hinges did not stick, but his back was toward me. She pushed me against the panel, and it let me in. And I held her and drew her after me, and the thing closed. The wall had swallowed us.

We stood on thin footing as if suspended in eternity. No sound from the swarming palace, not even possible noise made by the gendarme, reached us. It was like being careless until she spoke in the hollow.

"Here's the door on the staircase, but it will not open."

I groped over every inch of it with swift haste in the blackness.

"Hurry—hurry!" she breathed. "He may touch the spring himself. It moves instantly."

"Does this open with a spring too?"

"I don't know. Sophie didn't know."

"Are you sure there is any door here?"

"She told me there was."

"This is like a door, but it will not move."

It sprang inward against us, a rush of air and a hollow murmur as of wind along the river following it.

"Go! Be quick!" said Mme. de Ferrier.

"But how will you get out?"

"I shall get out when you are gone."

"Oh, Eagle, forgive me!" Yet I would have dragged her in with me again.

"I am in no danger. You are in danger. Goodbye, my illegals."

Cautionally she pushed me through the door, begging me to feel for every step. I stood upon the top one and held to her as I had held to her in passing through the other wall.

I thought of the heavy days before her and the blank before me. I could not let go her wrists. We were fools to waste our youth. I could work for her in America. My vitals were being torn from me. I should go to the devil without her. I don't know what I said, but I knew the brute love which had risen like a flood in me would never conquer the women who kissed me in the darkness and held me at bay.

"Oh, Louis—oh, Lazarre! Think of Paul and Cousin Philippe! You shall be your best for your little mother. I will come to you some time."

Then she held the door between us, and I went down around and around the spiral of stone.

CHAPTER XX.

EVEN when a year had passed I said of my escape from the Tuileries: "It was a dream. How could it have happened?" for the adventures of my wandering fell from me like a garment, leaving the one changeless passion.

Skenedonk and I met on the ship. A New England minister, who looked upon and considered us from day to day. I used to sit in the stern, the miles stretching me as a rack stretches flesh and tendons. The minister regarded me as prostrated by the spider bite of that wicked Paris, out of which he learned I had come by talking to my Oneida.

The Indian and I were a queer pair that interested him, and when he discovered that I bore the name of Eleazar Williams his friendship was sealed to us. Eleazar Williams of Deerfield, the grandmother of Thomas Williams, was a traditional brand never snatched from the burning in the minister's town of Longmeadow, where nearly every inhabitant was descended from or espoused to a Williams. Though he himself was born Storrs, his wife was born Williams, and I could have lain at his feet and cried, so open was the heart of this good man to a wanderer rebounding from a family that disowned the pretender. He was my welcome back to America. The breath of eastern plains and the resinous sweetness of western plains I had not yet seen, but which drew me so that I could scarcely wait to land, came to me with that man. Before the voyage ended I had told him my whole history as far as I knew it, except the story of Mme. de Ferrier, and the beginning of it was by no means new to him. The New England Williamses kept a prayerful eye on that branch descending through the Troquois. This transplanted Briton returning from his one memorable visit to the England of his forefathers despised my Bourbon claims and even the French connection of my name.

"What are you going to do now, Eleazar?" he inquired.

Hungry my old dream to myself, feeling my heart leap toward that western empire which must fascinate a young man as long as there remain any western lands to possess, I told him I intended to educate my Troquois as soon as I could prepare myself to do it, and settle them where they could grow into a greater nation.

The man of God knitted in the face. He was a dark eyed, square browed, serious man, with black hair falling below his white band. His mouth had a sweet, benign expression even when he quizzed me about my dauphinhood. A New England pastor was a dame that burned for the enlightenment of the nations. From that hour it was settled that I should be his pupil and go with him to Longmeadow to finish my education.

When we landed he helped me to sell my Babylonish clothes, except the white court dress, to which I clung with tenacity displeasing to him, and garb myself in more befitting raiment. My Skenedonk's hand I sent some of the remaining gold coins to my mother, Marianne and the chief when he rejoined the tribe and went to pass the winter at St. Regis. And by no means did I forget to tell him to bring me letters from De Chamant's man in the spring if any arrived there for me.

How near to heaven the New England village seemed, with Mount Tom on the horizon glorious as Mount Zion, the mighty sweep of meadow land, the Connecticut river flowing in great peace, the broad street of elms like some gigantic cathedral nave and in its very midst a steeple, the meeting house, double decked with fan topped windows!

Religion and education were the mainsprings of its life. Pastor Storrs worked in his study nearly nine hours a day and spent the remaining hours in what he called visitation of his flock.

This being lifted out of Paris and plunged into Longmeadow was the pouring of white hot metal into cold molds. It cast me. With a seething and a roar of loosened forces the boy passed to the man.

Nearly every night during all those years of changing, for even faithful ness has its tides, I put the snuffbox under my pillow, and Mme. de Ferrier's key spoke to my ear. I would say to myself: "The one I love gave me this key. Did I ever all beside her on a ledge of stone overlooking a sunk garden, so near that I might have touched her? Does she ever think of the dauphin Louis? Where is she? Does she know that Lazarre has become Eleazar Williams?"

The pastor's house was fronted with huge white fluted pillars of wood, up-leading a porch roof which shaded the second floor windows. The doors in that house had a short waisted effect with little panels above and long panels below. I had a chamber so clean and small that I called it in my mind the monk's cell, nearly filled with the high posted bed, the austere table and chairs. The whitewashed walls were bare of pictures, except a painted portrait of Stephen Williams, pastor of Longmeadow from 1718 to 1783. Daily his laughing eyes watched me as if he found my pretensions a great joke. He had a long nose and a high forehead. His black hair crinkled, and a merry crease drew his half circle from one cheek around under his chin to the other.

Longmeadow did not receive me without much question and debate. There were Williamses in every direction; disguised, perhaps, for that generation, under the names of Cooley, Stebbins, Colter, Ely, Hole, and so on. A stately Sarah Williams, as Mrs. Storrs, sat at the head of the pastor's table. Her disapproval was a force, though it never manifested itself except in withdrawal. If Mrs. Storrs had drawn back from me while I lived under her roof, I should have felt an outcast indeed. The subtle refinement of those Longmeadow women was like the hinted sweetness of arbutus flower. Breeding passed from generation to generation. They had not mixed their blood with the blood of any outsiders, and their forebears were English yeomen.

I threw myself into books as I had done during my first months at De Chamant's before I grew to think of Mme. de Ferrier. One of those seven years I spent at Dartmouth. But the greater part of my knowledge I owe to Pastor Storrs. Greek and Hebrew he gave me to add to the languages I was beginning to own, and he unlocked all his accumulations of learning. It was a monk's life that I lived; austere and without incident, but bracing as the air of the hills. The whole system was monastic, though a glimmer of light shined on that word in Longmeadow. I took the discipline into my blood. It will go down to those after me.

There is a man had to walk with God whether he wanted to or not.

Living was inexpensive, each item being gauged by careful housekeeping. It was a sin to gorge the body, and godly conversation was better than abundance. Yet the pastor's tea table arises with a halo around it. The rye and Indian bread, the doughnuts fragrant as flowers, the sparkling tea, the prim mats which saved the cloth, the wire screen covering sponge cake—how sacred they seem!

The autumn that I came to Longmeadow Napoleon Bonaparte was beaten on the sea by the English, but won the battle of Austerlitz, defeating the Russian coalition and changing the map of Europe.

I felt sometimes a puppet while this man played his great part. It was no comfort that others of my house were nothing to France. Though I did not see Louis Philippe again, he wandered in America two or three years and went back to privacy.

The missionary spirit of Longmeadow stirred among the Williamses, and many of them brought what they called their mites to Pastor Storrs for my education. If I were made a king no revenue could be half so sweet as that. The village was richer than many a stonier New England place, but men were struggling then all over the wide states and territories for material existence.

The pension no longer came from Europe. It ceased when I returned from France. Its former payment was considered apocryphal by Longmeadow, whose very monks, too white, with a pink spot in each cheek, smiled with reserved amusement at a student who thought it possible he could ever be a king. I spoke to nobody but Pastor Storrs about my own convictions. But local newspapers, with their omniscient grip on what is in the air, banded the subject back and forth.

We sometimes walked in the burying ground among dead Williamses while he argued down my claims, leaving them without a leg to stand on. Reversing the usual ministerial formula, "If what has been said is true, then it follows, first, secondly," and so on, he used to say:

"Eleazar, you were brought up among the Indians, conscious only of bodily existence and unconscious of your origin; granted. Money was sent—let us say from Europe—for your support; granted. Several persons, among them one who testified strongly against his will, told you that you resembled the Bourbons; granted. You bear on your person marks like those which were inflicted on the unfortunate dauphin of France; granted. You were malignantly pursued while abroad; granted. But what does it all prove? Nothing. It amounts simply to this: You know nothing about your early years. Some foreign person—perhaps an English Williams—kindly interested himself in your upbringing. You were probably scolded in the camps. You have some accidental traits of the Bourbons. A man who heard you had a larger pension than the idiot he was tending disliked you. You can prove nothing more."

I never attempted to prove anything more to Pastor Storrs. It would have been most ungrateful to persuade him I was an alien. At the same time he prophesied his hopes of me, and many a judicious person blamed him for treating me as something out of the ordinary and cockering up pride.

A blunter Williams used to take me by the button on the street.

"Eleazar Williams," he would say, "do you pretend to be the son of the French king? I tell you what! I will not let the name of Williams be disgraced by any relationship to any French monarch! You must do one of two things—you must either renounce Williamsism or renounce Bourbonism!"

Though there was liberty of conscience to criticize the pastor he was autocrat of Longmeadow. One who preceded Pastor Storrs had told about him that two of his deacons wanted him to appoint ruling elders. He appointed them and asked them what they thought the duties were. They said he knew best.

"Well," said the pastor, "one of the ruling elders may come to my house before meeting, saddle my horse and hold the stirrup while I get on. The other may wait at the church door and hold him while I get off, and after meeting bring him to the steps. This is all of my work that I can consent to let ruling elders do for me."

The Longmeadow love of disputation was fostered by boys which ruling elders might have made it their business to preserve. If any ruling elders were willing to accept their appointment. The pastor once went to the next town to enjoy argument with a scientific doctor. When he mounted his horse to ride home before nightfall the two friends kept up their debate. The doctor stood by the horse, or walked a few steps as the horse moved. Presently both men noticed a fire in the east—and it was sunrise. They had argued all night.

In Longmeadow a man could not help practicing argument. I also practiced oratory, and all the time I practiced the Troquois tongue as well as English and French, and began the translation of books into the language of the nation I hoped to build. That Indians made unstable material for the while man to handle I would not believe. Skenedonk was not unstable. His faithfulness was a rock.

For some reason, and I think it was the reach of Pastor Storrs, men in other places began to seek me. The vital currents of life indeed sped through us on the Hartford and Springfield stage road. It happened that Skenedonk and I were making my annual journey to St. Regis when the first steamboat accomplished its trip on the Hudson river. About the time that the Wisconsin country was included in Illinois territory I decided to write a letter to Mme. Tunk at Green Bay and insist on knowing my story as she believed she knew it. Yet I hesitated and finally did not do it. I found afterward that there was no post office at Green Bay. A carrier, sent by the officers of the fort and villagers, brought mail from Chicago. He had 200 miles of wilderness to traverse and his blankets and provisions as well as the mail to carry, and he did this at the risk of his life among wild men and beasts.

The form of religion was always a trivial matter to me. I never ceased to love the sacrifice of the miss, which was an abomination and an idolatrous practice to Pastor Storrs. The pagantry of the Roman church that first mothered and nurtured me touches me to this day. I love the Protestant prayers of the English church, and I love the stern and knotty argument, the sermon with heads and sequences, of the New England Congregationalist. For this catholicity Catholics have upbraided me, churchmen rebuked me and dissenters denied that I had any religion at all.

When the Episcopal bishop of New York showed me kindness and Pastor Storrs warned me against being proselytized I could not tell him the charm in the form of worship practiced by the woman I loved. There was not a conscious minute when I forgot her. Yet nobody in Longmeadow knew of her existence. In my most remorseful days, comparing myself with Pastor Storrs, I was never sorry I had clung to her and begged her not to let me go alone, for some of our sins are so honestly the expression of nature that justification breaks through them.

On the western border there was trouble with dissatisfied Indians, and on the sea there was trouble with the British, so that people began to talk of war long before it was declared and to blame President Madison for his over-caution in affairs. A battle was fought at Tippecanoe in the Indiana territory which silenced the Indians for awhile, but every one knew that the English stood behind them. Militia was mustered, the army recruited and embargo laid upon shipping in the ports, and all things were put forward in April of that year before war was declared in June.

I had influence with our tribes. The government offered me a well paid commission to act as its secret agent. Pastor Storrs and the Williamses, who had been nurturing a missionary, were smitten with grief to see him rise and leap into camps and fields, eager for the open world, the wilderness smell, the council, where the red man's mind, a trembling balance, could be turned by vivid language—eager, in fact, to live where history was being made.

The pastor had clothed me in his mind with ministerial gown and band, and the martial blood that quickened he counted an Iroquois strain. Yet so inconsistent is human nature, so given to forms which it calls creeds, that when I afterward put on the surplice and read prayers to my adopted people he counted it as great a defection as taking to saddle and spur. We cannot leave the expression of our lives to those better qualified than we are, however dear they may be. I had to pack my saddlebags and be gone, loving Longmeadow none the less because I grieved it, knowing that it would not approve of me more if I stayed and failed to do my natural part.

The snuffbox and the missal which had belonged to my family in France I gave to my mother. And very fitly he could be transported on the road we took.

John Williams, who came to Longmeadow in deerskins and paraded his burnished red poll among the hatted Williamses, abetted me in turning from the missionary field to the arena of war, and never left me. It was Skenedonk who served the United States with brawn and endurance, while I put such policy and color into my harangues as I could command. We shared our meals, our camps, our beds of leaves, together. The life at Longmeadow had knit me to good use. I could fast or feast, ride or march, take the buckskins or the soldier's uniform. Great latitude was permitted us in our orders. We spent a year in the north. My skin darkened and toughened under exposure until I said to Skenedonk, "I am turning an Indian," and he, jealous of my French blood, denied it.

Theatrical Notes.

The attendance at the Wallace park summer attractions last night was very good and the performance pleasing. The same show will be on the boards all this week. Price 10c.

The office hours at the Kentucky theatre this season are from 10 to 1 p. m., instead of from 9 to 12, and from 3 to 5 p. m. Manager English has charge and will have on sale tickets between the hours named.

The indications are for a crowded house at Prof. Harr Gilbert's minstrel at the Kentucky this evening. He is a deserving young man and his many friends should turn out in force and give him a testimonial.

A remarkable fact about the twelve pretty chorists girls in Broadhurst & Currie's musical comedy, "Mr. Jolly of Joliet," is that there is not two pounds difference in the weight of each, their average weight being 138 pounds.

It is understood that Mr. Omar Fowler who left Paducah to become a member of "Faust" is preparing to give amateur entertainments in various towns. He gave up a good position here in order to join the company, which never started out.

Dora Thorne as a novel has enjoyed a sale of over 5,000,000 copies in the United States. The management of the play of the same name which will shortly appear here, claim that it will be witnessed by fully ten million people in the next five years, if the present capacity business is an indication of the future.

A full orchestra and chorus rehearsal for the Gilbert minstrel was heard last night at the Kentucky and the show will probably be the best ever given in the city by amateurs. The best local musical talent has been secured and a number of the musical numbers will undoubtedly make hits. The orchestra numbers 15 and has nearly a full instrumentation. Prof. Harry Gilbert will direct it.

Mr. William Malone, for the past year advertising representative of the Register, has resigned his position, effective Friday, to accept the position of stage manager at The Kentucky theatre, a place he held with great credit up to about a year ago when he resigned. Mr. Malone is an experienced and highly efficient man in the business, and is always complimented by traveling managers for the quick and effective manner in which he handles the stage. He succeeds Mr. Frank Johnson, who went to Macon, Ga., to reside.

Tim Murphy, the well known comedian who is to star in "The Man from Missoni," this year and who is very popular in Paducah, says that last season, near the close of his tour, his company was coming down from Poughkeepsie on an accommodation train to play a week's engagement in New York. The members of the company were scattered about the car, and as the conductor passed through each member would wave him aside with an airy gesture and simply remark "company," whereupon the conductor, knowing that it was a theatrical organization, and that he would get the necessary tickets from the manager, would pass on.

"An Irishman got on the train at Yonkers," says Mr. Murphy, "and on every side of him he heard persons say 'company,' which appeared to be a countersign for the evasion of the payment of fare."

"This is too easy," said the Irishman to himself, so when the conductor reached him and asked for his ticket, the Irishman waved him aside, and murmured 'company.'

"The conductor was suspicious, and asked:

"'Company? What company?'

"'Knickerbocker Ice Company,' responded the Irishman, promptly.

"But," concluded Mr. Murphy, "unfortunately this explanation didn't go."

SMALL BLAZE

IT ORIGINATED FROM A DEFECTIVE FLUE.

The central fire department was called to No. 3 Polk Row, near Huntington Row, today at noon to extinguish a small blaze in the roof. The fire originated from a defective flue and only a small hole was burned in the roof. The firemen tore the terra cotta flue out and a new one will have to be built. The house was owned by T. L. Polk.

A COOL JOB

Fulton Man Awakes and is Covered by Revolver.

The Negro Got What He Wanted and Then Backed Out.

An unusually bold burglary was perpetrated at the home of Mr. J. H. Newhouse in Fulton Saturday night. Mr. Newhouse was awakened by a noise and discovered a big negro man in his room ransacking his trunks. When the burglar discovered that Mr. Newhouse was awake, he covered him with a revolver until he finished his work and then quietly took his departure going backwards out of the room with his pistol on the owner of the house. He secured all of the change from Mr. Newhouse's pocket, $5.25, and had previously stolen a suit of clothes from Mr. Bert Newhouse, a son of Mr. Newhouse, valued at $17.50.

The robber had entered the house by a side window, borrowing a ladder from a neighbor's house to make the ascent.

The matter was reported to Marshal Roberson and bloodhounds were put on the negro's track and he was traced to the I. O. freight depot, where he is supposed to have escaped on a freight train.

Miss Minnie Olme, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Ireland head, of Nashville, will return this week.

HAYES' BEECHWOOD EMULSO-HYPO WITH IRON

Makes Fat, Strength, Blood, Bone and Muscle.

If you are tired, broken down, despondent, worn out, pale, losing flesh, have no energy, don't feel like arising in the morning for the day's work, you should take a bottle of this wonderful medicine.

BOGOTA, MISS., March 19, 1903.
Gentlemen:—It affords me no little pleasure to testify to the wonderful properties of Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron as it saved my life when the physicians said that I could not get well. After taking six or eight bottles I weighed 150 pounds. That has been ten years and I am still living in fine health. Wishing you success in its sale, I am yours truly, FARD S. DAWSON.

AMSTERDAM, Ky., March 18, 1903.
Gentlemen:—Having used Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron I cannot commend it too highly to others as a lung and flesh builder and to give strength, blood and muscle. It is superior to any preparation of which I have any knowledge. I take pleasure in recommending it. Yours truly, R. W. NEWNAM.

Shoffner-Hayes Medicine Co., Paducah, Ky. In 1901 my mother commenced taking Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron, when the doctors said her lungs were so badly involved that she would not likely live long a few weeks. It improved her so rapidly that she was soon in good health for one of her years. I wish you the success you deserve with your Beechwood Emulso-Hypo. Yours truly, AARON G. DAVIS.
